Animal Lights is an outgrowth of The Forever Angels

a book of new findings about the very young that will affect the entire field of near-death studies.

Animal Lights books are about animal babies who remember being in the light, being conceived, living in their mommy's "pocket place" (womb), and being born.

Their stories are about problems and having fun, about nearly dying, and about handicaps. They're all about "coming into this world from the spirit world."

Their purpose is to enable parents to have something fun to do with their children, to help kids remember their own time in their mother's womb, remember birth, and discover the words to talk about anything they might want to talk about!
